

Riello UPS and Ducati Corse celebrates 15 years of partnership

The Veronese company and the Borgo Panigale team cross the milestone of 15 years of collaboration after renewing their sponsorship agreement, with a renewed motivation to achieve ambitious new goals.

Legnago, 12 February 2021. Riello UPS, a brand of the Riello Elettronica group, a world player in the production of static uninterruptible power supplies, photovoltaic inverters and Energy Storage systems, announces the renewal of its sponsorship of the Ducati Lenovo Team for the upcoming MotoGP World Championship. The partnership between the two Italian companies, synonymous with excellence and technology at the highest level, thus turns 15 and confirms Riello UPS's desire to consolidate its success at an international level.

This year, Riello UPS will have great visibility in MotoGP guaranteed by the presence of its brand on the front fairing and tail of the Desmosedici GP of Francesco Bagnaia and Jack Miller, as well as on the riders' suits and team clothing.

The renewal of the agreement with Ducati Corse is a clear and direct message of Riello UPS's great solidity and ability to adapt even after a particularly difficult year like the past one, which saw the Covid-19 emergency put a strain on global markets. Thanks to the search for ever higher technological standards, the added value of Made in Italy production and the great culture of teamwork, Riello UPS continues to pursue increasingly ambitious goals and with ever-growing motivation.

"With Ducati Corse for 15 years we have continuously raised the challenge by setting ourselves increasingly ambitious goals and pursuing them with strategy, attention to detail and teamwork - declared Fabio Passuello, Riello UPS General Manager - Such a philosophy is essential to overcome periods of great global crisis like we are experiencing, from which we can only emerge as winners through strategies aimed at the future and focusing on technological research of excellence. - concludes Fabio Passuello.

"We are eager to start this new season and to measure ourselves once again on the great international stages by challenging all the other teams in terms of technology and strategy: doing it once again alongside Riello UPS demonstrates the great synergy that exists between these two Italian excellences. 15 years of partnership are a great achievement, but we like to always look ahead and raise the challenges towards even more ambitious results, a philosophy we share with Riello UPS and which is the secret of our partnership." added the General Manager of Ducati Corse, Luigi Dall'Igna.

Riello UPS also contributes to the performance of the Borgo Panigale Team by providing new generation uninterruptible power supplies to protect the team's sophisticated electronic control and communication equipment and corporate IT systems, to which it guarantees maximum safety and reliability.
